Internet Mailing List Providers

Copyright (c) 1995-1999, Brian Edmonds

$Revision: 1.73 $, $Date: 1999/05/29 19:28:16 $

This list is maintained by Brian Edmonds <brian@gweep.bc.ca>. Please send all additions, corrections, and comments to this address. New entries and extra information from listed providers are especially welcome.

This is a list of individuals, organizations and companies on the net who offer mailing list services, either for a fee, or as a service to the net community. If you wish to start a mailing list, please contact one or more of these services for more information.

The list is posted on the eighth day of each month to the newsgroups comp.mail.misc, comp.mail.list-admin.software, comp.answers, and news.answers. It is also available from the following locations:

- * <http://www.gweep.bc.ca/~edmonds/usenet/ml-providers.html>
- * send mail to majordomo@gweep.bc.ca with the following line in the body: get faq ml-providers.txt

For a list of list management software, please visit Vivian Neou's List Management Software page. Vivian also maintains another list of list service providers, as well as other list related resources, so do visit her site. The (older) List Management Software FAQ may also prove useful.

The following people have helped out in the creation of this list
(excluding providers and people associated with them):

Listserv Lists

From: Roger Burns <cfs-news@cais.cais.com>

The most widely used mailing list software is Revised Listserv, developed by Eric Thomas of L-Soft. Over 200 sites run Listserv mailing list software at no charge to the list-owners, and many may be willing to sponsor a list for you if your proposed topic strikes their interest.

To find a Listserv sponsor, write up a draft proposal which describes the list you'd like to create and mail it to LSTSRV-L@SEARN.SUNET.SE. Mention in your message that you don't usually follow those discussion groups, so could responses please be mailed to your private address. Please only submit your proposal once. If someone is willing to host your list, then you will hear back from him or her. Repeated proposals for the same topic are only likely to annoy the readers of the list and may make them less likely to want to take on new lists. For more detailed advice on this process, send the command GET NEW-LIST CREATE as an e-mail message to the address LISTSERV@VM1.NODAK.EDU.

For general documents explaining Listserv, send the following commands in the body of a message to LISTSERV@SEARN.SUNET.SE:

GET LISTPRES MEMO
GET LISTSERV REFCARD
GET LISTSERV MEMO

For documents about running Listserv lists, send the following commands to that same address:

GET LISTOWNR MEMO
GET LISTOWNR REFCARD
GET LISTSERV TIPS
GET LISTKEYW MEMO

No-fee Providers

Coollist

Email Contact: admin@coollist.com
Web Contact: <http://www.coollist.com/>
Software: ?

Status: no-fee service

We are a free mailing list provider providing total control over your lists via the WWW.

eldar.org

Email Contact: brad@anduin.eldar.org, sponge@ripco.com
Web Contact: http://anduin.eldar.org/eldar_info.html

Feel free to apply for a list by contacting us, but be aware that eldar.org might not be able to host the list for you at this time.

Expansion, LLC

Email Contact: ListAdmin@expand.com
Web Contact:
<http://www.expand.com/HWSite/expansion/listmanagement.html>
Software: LetterRip
Status: free service with ads

Small sponsorship message in each posting. Minimum of 50 current subscribers to open new account. Maximum of 10 kilobytes per message. Moderated lists accomodated. Includes web-based sub/unsub. Includes custom email headers if required. Includes a digest (daily or weekly) if required. Includes promotional support if required. Includes searchable web archive (if required).

greenspun.com

Email Contact: spam@greenspun.com
Software: SPAM<TM> an RDBMS-backed Web System
Status: No Fee Service

A service intended for Web publishers who wish to collect names, addresses, and demographic information from readers without the hassle of maintaining a relational database themselves. It is not a mailing list in the Listserv sense. You, the administrator, are the only person who can send mail to the list. Users receive mail that appears to have come directly from you. If they reply, it is directly to the email address that you specify. Most typically, this service is used by Web publishers to apprise readers of new documents. However, via Web forms, you can configure SPAM to collect custom information and to deliver custom confirmation pages. For example, you could easily use the system to collect names of users who register to try out demo software and then deliver them a page with downloading instructions.

Horizon Online

Contact: majordomo-owner@horizon-online.co.uk
Software: Majordomo
Status: no-fee service

Horizon OnLine host mailing lists supported by the latest version of majordomo giving list owners full control whilst being off site. Help

IGV InterLink offers a free mailinglist hosting service for the internet community. Lists are not blindly accepted, but we're willing to review every request. IGV InterLink is a students assosication, providing extended internet access for the students at Fontys Hogescholen, the Netherlands.

ListQuest

Email Contact: listquest@corenetworks.com
Web Contact: <http://lq.corenetworks.com/>
Software: Written by Core Networks Inc.
Status: free searchable list archiving

ListQuest came about because some of our staff were members of active lists, but the lists did not have searchable archives. So we wrote an engine to provide the archives. The members loved it and told others. Soon we added a few more lists and so it goes. The engine has been upgraded three times since inception and a new version is in the works. The service is FREE and we actively FIGHT SPAM. We also host lists that we are archiving, and have a dedicated Sun running Majordomo for this purpose.

The Mail Archive

Email Contact: jeff@jab.org
Web Contact: <http://www.mail-archive.com/>
Software: mhonarc + htdig
Status: free searchable list archiving

We specialize in doing only one thing -- list archiving. The Mail Archive offers searchable archiving services for public Internet mailing lists. The goal is to make outsourcing mailing list archives as easy or easier than doing it yourself. You may archive your list at the Mail Archive regardless of where the list itself is hosted.

OakNet Publishing

Email Contact: Phil Tanny <editor@oaknetpub.com>
Web Contact: <http://www.oaknetpub.com/>
Software: ListSTAR
Status: free autoresponders and announcement lists

OakNet Publishing offers free autoresponders and announcement lists (newsletter mailings etc) to businesses and organizations in exchange for permission to attach small ads for our listserv services to the top and bottom of outgoing mails. We also offer commercial accounts for those who would prefer not to display our ads in their mailings. Most commercial accounts are $25/month. Discussion groups are available for our commercial customers. We provide friendly and attentive customer service to both our free and commercial accounts and use very flexible software (ListSTAR) which allows us to customize our services to meet each customers unique needs.

ONElist

Email Contact: admin@onelist.com
Web Contact: <http://www.onelist.com/>
Software: custom
Status: free list hosting and archiving

ONElist provides free, easy to use and reliable list services. You can start and manage new mailing lists, subscribe to existing mailing lists and view archives of old list messages, all from the ONElist web site. ONElist supports many different types of mailing lists, including announcement lists, restricted lists, moderated lists, and open lists.

Prodigy Services Corporation

Email Contact: majordomo-owner@listserv.prodigy.com
Web Contact: <http://goodstuff.prodigy.com/Lists/>
Software: Majordomo
Status: free list support for certain topic areas

Prodigy mailing lists are free and open to anyone. Many are related to our communities, but any topic may be considered. Prodigy Services Corporation is not accepting any new Mailing Lists at this time, although existing lists are being maintained.

spunge.org

Email Contact: Benji Spencer <spunge@spunge.org>
Web Contact: <http://www.spunge.org/info.html>
Software: Majordomo
Status: free mail lists

Spunge.org hosts free mailing lists for people who would like them. Some features include the use of Major Cool, MHonArc, and a subscribe/unsubscribe web page interface. Each list will be dealt with on a personal level, but there is no intent to limit the lists, unless there becomes a problem with bandwidth/machines.

Carnell Information Systems

Email Contact: info@carnell-engineering.com
Software: cAML
Status: for-fee provider

The Carnell Automated Mailing List (or cAML) is an enhancement to any web site that offers content that is constantly being updated, like an electronic magazine or technical documentation. Visitors to your web site fill out a quick and easy form to add themselves to the list. From then on, you have easy access to that list. More importantly, the list has a built-in utility for sending personalized messages to each member, and giving him his private ID (for use in changing his profile or removing himself altogether). This frees you from the task of relying on external email list servers to monitor the Internet for incoming signal messages. When you want to find out who's on your list or send mail to everyone, you simply make your way to a special page on our site that gives you complete control of your list. In addition, cAML software upgrades are automatic and free. cAML is a very low cost service. At $5.00 (US) per month (no size limits), we're making cAML the best and most popular way to maintain a mailing list.

Ga-USA.Com Internet Services

Email: Sales@Ga-USA.Com
Web Contact: <http://www.Ga-USA.Com>
Software: MajorDomo
Status: for-fee service

Internet Presence Services including web space, e-mail accounts and mail lists. A ``full-service'' site, we offer customized services to meet your short or long-term IP (Internet Presence) needs. Note: Ga-USA.Com is not an ISP (Internet Service Provider) -- you still need Internet access from an ISP to utilize our services. All lists hosted from our site treat list member information as confidential. As a matter of policy, list e-mail addresses are not provided to outside interests. If this is agreeable to your needs, we invite you to visit our site or send us e-mail.

Harte & Lyne Limited

Web Contact: <http://www.halisp.net/halisp/mailprice.html>
Software: Majordomo
Status for-fee service

Harte & Lyne Limited was founded in 1892 (sic) and has been operating an Internet Services Division since November 1995. We specialize in professional individual access accounts and provide a full range of internet services, including e-mail mailing list services. Among the lists that we currently host are the Diplomacy Cat23-L list, the WarinEur computer wargame mailing list, the PacWar computer mailing list, and many private lists.

Our mailing list software is majordomo 1.94.4. Our SMTP MTA is sendmail 8.8.7. We have a policy prohibiting UCEM and we have anti-relay rulesets installed on our servers. We are located in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada and yet we have clients from around the world. Germany, the USA, Singapore, Great Britain, Brazil and Italy are representative of the range of nations that we have clients located in.

Our prices for international services are quoted in Canadian Dollars but we can bill in any currency that is freely exchanged by Canadian banks. In practice this means that you can pay either in Canadian or US funds but we have in the past dealt in Deuschmarks and Pounds Stirling. We accept VISA. If VISA is used to settle payment then the charge is made in Canadian Dollars and the issuing bank determines the exchange rate.

InterLink BBS

Email Contact: info@interlink-bbs.com
Software: Listbot
Status: for-fee provider

InterLink BBS will manage your email discussion group for only $15.00 US a month, or $59.75 for six months (one month free!). We proudly offer: no setup fees, no contracts, no commitments and no size limits. Mastercard and Visa welcome! Ideal for clubs and newsletters. We let you choose your own address, making your list unique. Options include a menu to manually add and delete users. Users can automatically subscribe/unsubscribe, receive a weekly or daily ``digest'' of all posts made to the list and even access an archive of old digests. We also do autoresponders, allowing people to receive your information automatically when they write to a certain address. For a comprehensive FAQ, write to: mailinglists@interlink-bbs.com.

Internet Business Access Group

Email Contact: Sales@ibag.com
Software: Majordomo
Status: for-fee service

The Internet Business Access Group provides mailboxes and mailing list services (using Majordomo software) at the following rates:

Mailboxes: $25.00 setup (up to 5 mailboxes), $7.50/month/mailbox
Mailing Lists: $25.00 setup, $15.00/month or $10.00/month when paid in 12 month blocks.

Majordomo allows remote administrators to have a high degree of control over the management of the mailing list.

Listbox

Web Contact: <http://www.listbox.com/>
Email Contact: support@listbox.com
Software: Majordomo
Status: for-fee service

Since 1995, Listbox has been providing mailing lists using Majordomo, the most popular list management software in existence today. Listowners from beginners to experts enjoy Listbox's free custom web interface that makes list management a snap. We have custom extensions built on top of the basic majordomo package: listowners can forbid certain individuals from posting, or even kill outright any messages that contain forbidden words. Dedicated email customer support, separate digests, and list archiving facilities are included free with each list.

We serve hundreds of lists, ranging in size from three subscribers to eleven thousand. Making millions of message deliveries every month, we still manage to boast some of the fastest delivery times in the business -- your messages will reach 95% of your subscriber list within 60 seconds. To find out more about Listbox, we invite you to check out our website at www.listbox.com, or contact us directly at support@listbox.com.

Software: LISTSERV
Status: for-fee service

L-Soft international Inc., the company that sells the authentic LISTSERV(TM) software for IBM mainframes, VMS, Unix, Windows NT and Windows 95, also operates the largest LISTSERV site in the world, with 1,600,000 daily deliveries (DEC95, weekday average). L-Soft offers a full range of list hosting services, from low-budget hobby lists (non-commercial use only) starting as low as $8.00/month, to high-profile personalized solutions for businesses, with five levels of list management assistance to choose from. There is also a bulk service for very large lists with infrequent postings.

L-Soft currently (DEC95) operates lists as large as 110,000 subscribers and has the technology to host lists of 1,000,000 members with response times of 0.2 sec or less for typical administrative requests (ADD, SUBSCRIBE, SIGNOFF, etc). Note that L-Soft is not an ISP and does not sell shell accounts, only mailing lists.

Lyris.Net

Email Contact: info@lyris.com
Web Contact: <http://www.lyris.net/>
Software: Lyris
Status: for-fee service

Lyris.Net specializes in high-reliability, high quality mailing list services. We use our own Lyris List Server software, which supports extensive web-based administration, quality of service monitoring, delivery progress notifications, auditing, scheduling, security, very high delivery speed, and many other features. Our list hosting facility is located at the West Coast NAP inside the Pacific Bell building, with redundant power backup and RAID hard disk subsystems. Our servers connect directly to a 45 megabit DS3 router at the UUNet access point.

mail-list.com

Email Contact: sales@mail-list.com
Web Contact: <http://www.mail-list.com>
Software: Custom software designed for ease of use
Status: for-fee service

mail-list.com provides easy to use, affordable mailing list services for both announcement (broadcast) and discussion groups email lists. Special addresses like list-on, list-off, list-change, and list-switch (where list is replaced by your list name) make it super simple for your subscribers to get on your list, off your list, change their address, or switch to the digest version.

Discussion groups are set up with two lists, which can be either individual messages, digests, or fancy multi-part digests. Send a blank message to fancy@mail-list.com to see if your email reader handles these new multi-part messages. A web page interface to your list is available, and status reports are emailed to you on a regular basis.

Save yourself time, hassles and keep from burning out by using the software that reduces and eliminates those annoying messages from people that cannot comprehend the traditional listserve type commands.

Software: Majordomo
Status: for-fee service

WDN has provided online services for the Washington, DC metropolitan area since 1984. We are a small company and our niche is unique in that we primarily work with small businesses and small associations. Our focus is on providing the individual service(s) needed by each individual client. Let us work with you to provide your online needs. All our servers are connected to the Internet by high speed connections. These servers have been up and running 99% of the time since installed. Downtime has consisted of time necessary to replace a defective power supply or to install additional memory.

We provide dial-up Internet access and dedicated Internet access via high speed US Robotics modems including ISDN and 56k (X2). In addition, we provide www servers which virtual domain homepages, private domain e-mail and subdomain homepages. A number of companies use our office for the co-location of their servers. If you need an online mailing list, we can set one up for you within hours of receipt of your order. Typically the client (you) has total management of their own mailing list via e-mail commands. You can have either a public or private mailing list. The most important aspect of such a list is that it is virtually automatic and requires little of your valuable time. We can provide broadcast e-mail, auto-responders and interactive mailing lists.
